- adequate selection of methodological procedures for effective rehearsal of solo and chamber vocal-instrumental compositions with instrumental accompaniment;
- an overview of the musical literature of different stylistic periods and genres and the difficulty of vocal parts and instrumental accompaniment.

Skills:

- Master the proper rehearsal and interplay of a solo or chamber vocal part and instrumental accompaniment;
- implement appropriate means of performance and expression in the interpretation of compositions of different stylistic periods;
- present the rehearsed repertoire at an appropriate artistic level.

Competencies:

- Ability to work independently in solving vocal-technical and performance problems and issues of harmony in self-study and exercises;
- Present their concepts in the interpretation of selected solo and chamber vocal-instrumental repertoire in artistic performances and teaching practice.

Course contents:

Brief outline of the course:

- Study of the instrumental part and its perfect technical preparation;
- study of the soloist or vocal chamber part and its perfect vocal-technical preparation;
- practice of the harmony of the vocal chamber part and the development of the tempo and dynamic-agogical aspects;
- rehearsal of the interplay of a soloist or chamber vocal part with instrumental accompaniment and development of the tempo and dynamic-agogical aspects;
- to become familiar with the critical points of the soloist's or chamber vocal part and the accompaniment and to establish the so-called fulcrums in the composition in case of memory or harmony failure;
- balance the solo or chamber vocal part with the instrumental accompaniment into a harmonious whole in tempo and sound.

COURSE INFORMATION SHEET

University: Catholic University in Ružomberok
Faculty: Faculty of Education
Course code: KHU/Hs-MD100A/22	Course title: Singing 1m
Type and range of planned learning activities and teaching methods: Form of instruction: Seminar Recommended study range: hours weekly: 2 hours per semester: 26 Teaching method: on-site
Credits: 3	Working load: 75 hours
Recommended semester/trimester: 1.
Level of study: II.
Prerequisites:
Requirements for passing the course: A maximum of 50 points can be earned for participation in the exercises. A student may earn a maximum of 50 points for semester passes. At least 60 points are required to pass the course. Continuous assessment: Continuous in class exercises or internal and public performances (concerts, competitions). Final assessment: semesterly playbacks or public performances (concerts). Verification of the extent to which the student has acquired the relevant knowledge, skills and competences is carried out on the basis of theoretical and practical examinations during the semester classes of the course and at internal and public performances. Course evaluation: A - 100%-93% B - 92%-85% C - 84%-77% D - 76%-69% E - 68%-60% Fx - 59%- 0%
Learning outcomes of the course: Course Objective: To continue to develop and deepen the acquired vocal-technical (consolidation of the correct resonant sound of the voice, breath support, intelligible articulation, expanding the range, increasing the difficulty of compositions) and interpretive skills (adequate implementation of dynamic-agogical changes, melodic ornaments, musical articulation, expressive elements: mimicry, gestures), which are a prerequisite for a cultivated and artistically valuable singing performance. The methodological procedures of voice training and the selection of vocal recital compositions are based on the individual vocal-technical level of each student. The mastery of theoretical and practical skills should lead to autonomy in the selection of repertoire, its study, solving vocal-technical problems, the choice of appropriate means of performance-expression and the implementation of the acquired knowledge in artistic and pedagogical practice. Learning outcomes: After completing the course the student will acquire the following knowledge, skills and competences:

Knowledge:

- of didactic principles and methodological procedures of teaching singing, which help in solving various pedagogical problems and contribute to his/her independence, self-realization and self-development.

Skills:

- To master the technique of soft and free tone production on a controlled breath support with balanced vocalisation and intelligible articulation throughout the vocal range;
- master the correct production of legato, staccato, tenuto, glissando, portamento;
- to present staged compositions at an appropriate vocal-technical and interpretative level and thus achieve a professional artistic performance;
- to present his/her views and concepts by implementing the elements and means of perfecting the performance in the interpretation of the chosen vocal repertoire.

Competencies:

- Ability to work independently in solving pedagogical problems, to use creative and innovative methods and means in teaching singing and to demonstrate organizational skills in both artistic and pedagogical areas;
- the ability to respond promptly and appropriately to the individual's vocal-technical and performance needs for artistic development, taking into account the individual's individual disposition.

COURSE INFORMATION SHEET

University: Catholic University in Ružomberok
Faculty: Faculty of Education
Course code: KHU/Hs-MD108A/22	Course title: Singing 3m
Type and range of planned learning activities and teaching methods: Form of instruction: Seminar Recommended study range: hours weekly: 2 hours per semester: 26 Teaching method: on-site
Credits: 3	Working load: 75 hours
Recommended semester/trimester: 3.
Level of study: II.
Prerequisites:
Requirements for passing the course: A maximum of 50 points can be earned for participation in the exercises. A student may earn a maximum of 50 points for semester passes. At least 60 points are required to pass the course. Continuous assessment: Continuous in class exercises or internal and public performances (concerts, competitions). Final assessment: semesterly playbacks or public performances (concerts). Verification of the extent to which the student has acquired the relevant knowledge, skills and competences is carried out on the basis of theoretical and practical examinations during the semester classes of the course and at internal and public performances. Course evaluation: A - 100%-93% B - 92%-85% C - 84%-77% D - 76%-69% E - 68%-60% Fx - 59%- 0%
Learning outcomes of the course: Course Objective: To develop and deepen the acquired vocal-technical (to strengthen the correct resonant sound of the voice, breath support, intelligible articulation, expanding the range, increasing the difficulty of compositions) and interpretive skills (to adequately implement dynamic-agogical changes, musical articulation, melodic embellishments, expressive elements: mimicry, gestures), which are a prerequisite for a cultivated and artistically valuable singing performance. The methodological procedures of voice training and the selection of vocal recital compositions are based on the individual vocal-technical level of each student. The mastery of theoretical and practical skills should lead to autonomy in the selection of repertoire, its study, solving vocal-technical problems, the choice of appropriate means of performance-expression and the implementation of the acquired knowledge in artistic and pedagogical practice. Learning outcomes: After completing the course the student will acquire the following knowledge, skills and competences:

Knowledge:

- of didactic principles and methodological procedures of teaching singing, which help in solving various pedagogical problems and contribute to his/her independence, self-realization and self-development.

Skills:

- To master the technique of soft and free tone production on a controlled breath support with balanced vocalisation and intelligible articulation throughout the vocal range;
- master the correct production of legato, staccato, tenuto, glissando, portamento;
- to present staged compositions at an appropriate vocal-technical and interpretative level and thus achieve a professional artistic performance;
- to present his/her views and concepts by implementing the elements and means of perfecting the performance in the interpretation of the chosen vocal repertoire.

Competencies:

- Ability to work independently in solving pedagogical problems, to use creative and innovative methods and means in teaching singing and to demonstrate organizational skills in both artistic and pedagogical areas;
- the ability to respond promptly and appropriately to the individual's vocal-technical and performance needs for artistic development, taking into account the individual's individual disposition.
