University: Catholic University in Ružomberok
Faculty: Faculty of Education
Course code: KPVZ/Tj-MD104A/22	Course title: Concurrent Teaching Practice I
Type and range of planned learning activities and teaching methods: Form of instruction: Seminar Recommended study range: hours weekly: 1 hours per semester: 13 Teaching method: on-site
Credits: 2	Working load: 50 hours
Recommended semester/trimester: 1.
Level of study: II.
Prerequisites:
Requirements for passing the course: Verification of the degree of acquired knowledge, skills and competences is carried out by the practice methodologist on the basis of the evaluation of the student by the trainee teacher and the evaluation of the submitted pedagogical diary. During the semester, the student participates in 1 teacher training, 6 student training and 3 direct outputs in a selected primary or secondary school. During this time, he/she keeps a pedagogical diary in which he/she records the theoretical knowledge imparted in the field of Italian language and the didactic-pedagogical practices of the trainee teacher and classmates, as well as his/her own preparations for the lesson. With the trainee teacher, he/she analyses the lessons in which he/she has participated (this is done in groups). The trainee teacher gives the student an assessment which represents 60% of the mark. The student's work discipline and behaviour, cooperation with the trainee teacher, educational performance, the student's linguistic expression, interest in learning about the school environment and attitude towards the teaching profession are evaluated. The student shall prepare a report of each lesson where he/she evaluates the activities of the teacher and classmates. The student will develop a self-reflection protocol for the self-reflection lessons. These documents, as well as the preparation of pedagogical logs and analysis of the lessons with the trainee teacher, are used by the practice methodologist for the final evaluation of the student in the 40% range. Course evaluation: A - 100%-93% B - 92%-85% C - 84%-77% D - 76%-69% E - 68%-60% Fx - 59%- 0%
Learning outcomes of the course: The aim of the course is to teach students to observe, analyse and record in the hospital records and pedagogical diaries the pedagogical and psychological aspects of the educational process and then to use the acquired skills practically in independent outputs in real conditions in primary or secondary school.

After completing the course, the student will acquire the following knowledge, skills and competences:

- The student is able to observe, analyse and record in the hospital records and pedagogical diaries the pedagogical and psychological aspects of the educational process.
- The student is able to analyse the form and appropriateness of different ways of assessing pupils' performance.
- The student is able to orientate himself/herself in generally binding legal, ethical, economic regulations related to the work of a teacher, in pedagogical documentation and in other conceptual and strategic documents of the school.
- The student is able to implement the practical outcomes of the subject Italian language and literature in the real conditions of the school environment in accordance with the principles of the educational process.

Course contents:

- The student is acquainted with the necessary documentation required to enter the training school and the conditions for completing the internship
- The student becomes familiar with the environment of the training school and the trainee teacher, sets the timetable for the practice.
- The student will attend 1 lesson in Italian language and literature taught by a trainee teacher in a selected primary or secondary school.
- The student participates in 6 lessons in Italian language and literature taught by his/her classmates.
- The student prepares and conducts 3 Italian language and literature lessons on his/her own.
- The student will draw up self-reflection protocols after each of his/her outputs.
- The student, together with the trainee teacher, will analyse all the lessons.
- The student will hand in a pedagogical diary prepared according to the requirements of the trainee teacher and the practice methodologist.
